Parma installs “handicap accessible” ramp at Nike swimming pool

(Parma, OH) – The Parma Department of Parks and Recreation has installed a handicap accessible ramp at the Nike swimming pool located at James Day Park that will enable those with disabilities and the elderly to better enter and exit the water.

The project was funded through a Community Development Block Grant.

“We are pleased to offer this amenity to residents,” said Parma Mayor Dean DePiero. “It is yet another example of my Administration’s commitment to all citizens.”

He said that the city will continue to explore ways to implement handicap accessible features at other municipally-owned recreational facilities.
